

DEFENDER LEADS ALL THE WAY.

Jubilee Badly Beaten in the Race for the Citizens' Cup.

ONLY ONE ROUND SAILED.

The Boston Boat So Soundly Trounced that Another Was Unnecessary.

LITERALLY A PROCESSION.

Emerald Beat Marguerite Decisively for the Schooner Trophy, No Others Starting.

START.
(Unofficial.)
Jubilee 11:40.30
Defender 11:41.00

FIRST MARK.
(Unofficial.)
Defender 12:30.30
Jubilee 12:42.00

SECOND MARK.
(Unofficial.)
Defender 1:18.30
Jubilee 1:26.00

FINISH.
(Unofficial.)
Defender 1:50.45
Jubilee 2:05.35

Defender's gain on first leg, 3 minutes.
Defender's gain on second leg, 5 minutes.

Defender's gain on last leg, 1 minute, 40 seconds.

Defender's total gain, elapsed time, 9 minutes, 40 seconds.

BRENTON'S POINT, NEWPORT.

Aug. 8.—Defender won the Citizens' Cup for sloops from Jubilee, her only competitor.

The race was cut short by the Regatta Committee after only one round of the triangular course had been sailed.

A second round was not necessary, Defender having shown the Boston yacht her stern nearly throughout the twenty-one mile sail.

Defender crossed the finish line 8 minutes and 50 seconds ahead of the Jubilee, which had started 30 seconds ahead.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 8.—Except for the lack of wind, there was every prospect this morning of an ideal day for the initial yacht races for the Citizens' Cup, offered by the citizens of Newport for the fastest boats in the sloop and schooner classes. The races were held under the management of the Regatta Committee of the New York Yacht Club, and were open to any yacht connected with recognized clubs.

The contest today was the first of the week was expected to be very successful and a long list of entries was looked for, but owing to the withdrawal of Vigilant and the departure of many of the yachts of the New York fleet the attraction for the majority of yachting enthusiasts was lacking, and but little interest was manifested.

There was some little curiosity, however, to see what kind of a showing Jubilee would make against Defender, after the slight changes made in her sails yesterday, and in consequence a fair-sized fleet of yachts went out to the course.

The entries for the day were: Schooners—Emerald, Marguerite, Alcazar, Neera.

Sloops—Defender, Jubilee, Queen Mab, Urvia and Naxos.

At 9 o'clock there was only a light breeze from the southeast and the water in the harbor was smooth and untroubled. At that hour none of the yachts had prepared to go out to the course, and it was evident the start would not be made very early.

About 10 o'clock, however, they began to move and soon most of the yachts in the harbor were headed out for the Brenton Reef Lightship.

The flag ship New York, of the North Atlantic Squadron, with the cruisers Montgomery and Cincinnati, arrived at Brenton's Point at 10 o'clock and began maneuvering outside the lightship.

At 10:15 there was a fine northwest breeze outside and the yachts of the New York fleet were coming out past the Dumplings for the start.

Defender and Jubilee appeared, Jubilee leading the lead. They had mainsail, staysail and club sails set. Defender could be seen slowly gaining on Jubilee.

The preparatory gun was fired from the flag ship Sylvia at 11:15.

The course was the same as that over which the boats sailed in the Drexel Cup races. It is triangular, twenty-one miles in length, the first leg of seven miles being to a mark boat southwest of the lightship.

At 11:40 a light breeze in the first leg. The course to be sailed over twice unless the Committee terminated the race at the end of the first round.

The schooners were sent away first, getting off in the following order:

Emerald 11:40.30
Marguerite 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

Emerald 11:40.30
Jubilee 11:41.00

Both started on starboard tack, with the breeze freshening.

Jubilee got over the line first by thirty seconds when the signal for the start was given. Their times at the start were:

after fourteen miles of the course had been covered, was:

Emerald held her lead over the first two legs of the course and headed for the finish far in advance of Marguerite. Emerald rounded the second mark nine and a half miles in advance of Marguerite. Their times around the mark were:

Emerald 1:18.30
Marguerite 1:26.00

Emerald won the race for the schooner cup. The times at the finish were:

Emerald 1:50.45
Marguerite 2:05.35

AILS BEATS BRITANNIA.

Yampa and Niagara Start in the Cowes Regatta.

COWES, Aug. 8.—In the regatta of the Royal Yacht Squadron today Britannia, Ailsa and Hester started in the race for the Cowes Town Cup, value £100. The course is from Cowes around a mark-boat off Looe to the Warner Lightship and back, about forty miles.

A light northwest breeze was blowing.

Ailsa led Hester at the start by about 20 seconds, with Britannia about 100 yards behind.

The three yachts carried their largest club sails and had a run to the Warner Lightship with spinnakers to starboard.

Ailsa was the winner of the Cowes Town Cup. The times of the two yachts were as follows:

Ailsa 4:22.20
Britannia 4:30.20

In the schooner race, Yampa, belonging to Mr. R. S. Palmer, of New York, soon had a long lead over her competitors.

Longmen's Audrey in the race for the 20-raters had the lead at the start, followed by Howard Gould's Niagara, Isobelle, Stephanie, Ingrid and John.

Stephanie won the race for the 20-raters, having had the lead over the greater part of the course. Isobelle was second.

YAMPA PROTEST TO STAND.

The American Schooner Carried Nine Extra Hands.

COWES, Aug. 8.—The Sailing Committee of the Royal Yacht Squadron has sustained the protest lodged yesterday against Mr. Palmer's schooner yacht Yampa, by Amphitrite.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A letter to The Daily Telegraph from Cowes says:

"Yampa outstayed the British schooner with the greatest ease. It is said to think where they would have been had a crack American two-master like Lusca been competing."

The Chronicle's Cowes correspondent says that the Committee will probably sustain the protest against Yampa, which carried a surplus of nine hands.

"Emperor William's" yachting star seems under a cloud this season," the correspondent continues.

BASEBALL CHAT.

Much comment has been caused in baseball circles over the opinion expressed by Charlie Byrne, President of the Brooklyn Club and a member of the Temple Cup Committee, and other prominent managers, that the Giants should play the Yankees this year, no matter what they finish in the race. The matter is at present attracting attention all over the country, and many bitter criticisms have been the outcome.

According to Mr. Byrne, the original provisions of Mr. Temple's deal of light have been put before the public in a wrong light, and by the strict letter of the deal New York, the present holder, must play the Yankees.

While all the argument is going on, the dinner of the beautiful and costly trophy has not been consumed. Probably there is no need of it, according to Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

Why all the argument should have been worked up is beyond understanding, and it is extremely doubtful if the New York management would insist upon going against Mr. Temple's evident wishes, even if it were to be decided by the deal of the deal. The New York team fully understands the deal, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

Of Mr. Temple's intention in presenting the prize there is no doubt, and it must be extremely getting to him to think that his earnestly expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

Then the argument must be extremely bitter and heated. It is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

It is the earnest desire of the club to win the cup, and it is not to be expected that they will go against Mr. Temple's expressed intention when making the gift, there is not the least room for argument. When it is all over, and the scrapers have relieved themselves to the limit, it is dollars to cents that the victory of first and second this year will play for the cup.

HOLLYWOOD HORSE SHOW.

Many Prominent New Yorkers Are Among the Exhibitors.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 8.—Beauty and fashion was well represented today at the opening of the second annual Monmouth County Horse Show in Hollywood Park, West End.

The show is one of the finest of the kind ever seen in Monmouth County.

There are over 30 entries in the different classes for the forty-five regular prizes offered by the Association, while there are eleven special classes and two extra classes, for which special prizes in plate are offered.

Charles F. Bates, known to the New York public as "Patty" Bates, has thirty-eight horses in the different classes. P. F. Collier, the New York jockey and cross-country rider, has several fine hunters on exhibition. The registered and unregistered classes, including the English and Western, are among the most interesting.

The show is one of the finest of the kind ever seen in Monmouth County.

There are over 30 entries in the different classes for the forty-five regular prizes offered by the Association, while there are eleven special classes and two extra classes, for which special prizes in plate are offered.

Charles F. Bates, known to the New York public as "Patty" Bates, has thirty-eight horses in the different classes. P. F. Collier, the New York jockey and cross-country rider, has several fine hunters on exhibition. The registered and unregistered classes, including the English and Western, are among the most interesting.

The show is one of the finest of the kind ever seen in Monmouth County.

There are over 30 entries in the different classes for the forty-five regular prizes offered by the Association, while there are eleven special classes and two extra classes, for which special prizes in plate are offered.

Charles F. Bates, known to the New York public as "Patty" Bates, has thirty-eight horses in the different classes. P. F. Collier, the New York jockey and cross-country rider, has several fine hunters on exhibition. The registered and unregistered classes, including the English and Western, are among the most interesting.

The show is one of the finest of the kind ever seen in Monmouth County.

There are over 30 entries in the different classes for the forty-five regular prizes offered by the Association, while there are eleven special classes and two extra classes, for which special prizes in plate are offered.